

European Society for Mathematics and the Arts Société Européenne pour les Mathématiques et les Arts

Animated and guided by mathematicians and artists, ESMA is a cultural purpose company. It is for all population categories.

Its profound objective is to contribute to the training of the mind. It is done all ages.

ESMA has a large collection of quality artwork whose mathematical base is visible.

On the occasion of exhibitions and exposés, the presentation of these works, with unexpected content that flatter our sensory system, helps to reconcile public with mathematics.

The presentation of works allows the dissemination and initiation of important concepts and facts which, through their presence in the mathematical vocabulary, facilitate knowledge and understanding of the world around us.

ESMA encourages math progress made by the analysis of works of art. It encourages the creation of works of art using the discoveries made by mathematicians in exploring their universe of infinite richness.
